Live your life. Be free.

“Excel still more...

For this is the will of God, your sanctification; that is, that you abstain from sexual immorality...”

— 1 THESSALONIANS 4.1B,3 —

Excel is designed to help you think through some of the most important decisions in your life. Specifically, it is designed to help you resist the world’s pressure toward sexual activity by drawing near to the Lord and following His plan for your life. Excel is about learning to resist the desire to live for self and choosing instead to live for the glory of God. If this is your desire, tell God you intend to live for Him and let this book be a tool to strengthen your resolve. If you’re not sure what you should do in this area, pray that God will speak to you through His Word and give you a clear understanding of His will for your life.

Live your life. Be free.

The Joseph account is an incredible story of a life well lived. It is a story that occurred thousands of years ago – but is in many ways more relevant today than when it was written. The Word of God is “living and active,” and Joseph’s story is more beneficial for us today than anything that you can buy at a bookstore. The lessons for your life are clear, and if you will allow the Word of God to teach you and guide you day by day, the results will be of significant benefit to your life, and will have eternal results.

Chapter 1

Living Life on Purpose

— Genesis 37.1-11 —

¹Now Jacob lived in the land where his father had sojourned, in the land of Canaan. ²These are the records of the generations of Jacob. Joseph, when seventeen years of age, was pasturing the flock with his brothers while he was still a youth, along with the sons of Bilhah and the sons of Zilpah, his father's wives. And Joseph brought back a bad report about them to their father. ³Now Israel loved Joseph more than all his sons, because he was the son of his old age; and he made him a varicolored tunic. ⁴His brothers saw that their father loved him more than all his brothers; and so they hated him and could not speak to him on friendly terms. ⁵Then Joseph had a dream, and when he told it to his brothers, they hated him even more. ⁶He said to them, "Please listen to this dream which I have had; ⁷for behold, we were binding sheaves in the field, and lo, my sheaf rose up and also stood erect; and behold, your sheaves gathered around and bowed down to my sheaf." ⁸Then his brothers said to him, "Are you actually going to reign over us? Or are you really going to rule over us?" So they hated him even more for his dreams and for his words. ⁹Now he had still another dream, and related it to his brothers, and said, "Lo, I have had still another dream; and behold, the sun and the moon and eleven stars were bowing down to me." ¹⁰He related it to his father and to his brothers; and his father rebuked him and said to him, "What is this dream that you have had? Shall I and your mother and your brothers actually come to bow ourselves down before you to the ground?" ¹¹His brothers were jealous of him, but his father kept the saying in mind."

God wants to do GREAT THINGS through you

Created for a Purpose

This is eternal life, that they may know You, the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom You have sent. I glorified You on the earth, having accomplished the work You have given Me to do. From Jesus' prayer on the night before he died.
— John 17:3-4 —

Everyone is created for a purpose. Even before you were born, God knew all about you. You did not decide to be born. You didn't do anything to be born. You have nothing to do with the fact that you even exist. It was God who created you and gave you the life you now have. Regardless of the circumstances surrounding your entry into the world, it was no surprise to God. No one is born as a matter of chance. In the same way that God created the heavens and the earth for His eternal glory, so too He has created you for this purpose —to live your life for the glory of God.

1. Have you ever given much thought as to why you exist? Do you know why you're here? Do you have an idea of the Lord's plan for your life?

- I have a clear idea of God's plan for my life.
- I have some idea of God's plan for my life.
- I have never really thought much about God's plan for my life.

Joseph was a teenager who had a dream for his life. He knew deep down inside that God wanted to do something great through him. He believed that one day he would be a ruler who would be used by God to care for His people. Even though others around him — especially his own family — laughed at him and told him it would never happen, Joseph knew God had created him for a purpose, and he believed deep in his heart that God would accomplish his dream.

2. Do you believe that God wants to do great things through you? Yes No Not Sure

God doesn't write His plan for your life in the sky. Rather, it is revealed step by step as you grow closer to Him. In John 17:4, Jesus says that He glorified the Father by accomplishing His work. This is what it means to live life on purpose. It is living for the glory of God. It is letting go of what you want to do and living for what God wants you to do. Living life on purpose is about bringing glory to God in all that you are and all that you do.

Although God has a purpose for your life, He doesn't force it on you. You can choose whether to live for God's purposes or not. People often press ahead in life without considering God's plan. Years later they are discontent and discouraged.

3. Why is it especially important to choose to live for the glory of God before you launch out into adulthood?

Looking Forward

1. As you consider God's purpose for your life, think about the special talents, gifts, and abilities that he has given you to fulfill His purpose. List some of your interests and abilities.

2. What might your life look like in the years ahead if you choose to live for Christ? Use one-word descriptions to list some of the goals and dreams that the Lord has given you for your future.

- Are you planning to go to college? Yes No
- What are some of your hopes for a career? _____, _____, _____
- If you are hoping to get married and have a family someday, do you have an idea of what you would like your family to be like? Describe:

- Do you plan to serve the Lord? What might that look like?

Life Hike

1. Think of your life as a hiking trip through the Rocky Mountains. You've got a number of peaks to climb as you go through life and each one represents opportunities and accomplishments. Below, the numbers represent the years of your life. Put an "X" on the line below to indicate your age. How much of your life is behind you, and how much is ahead?

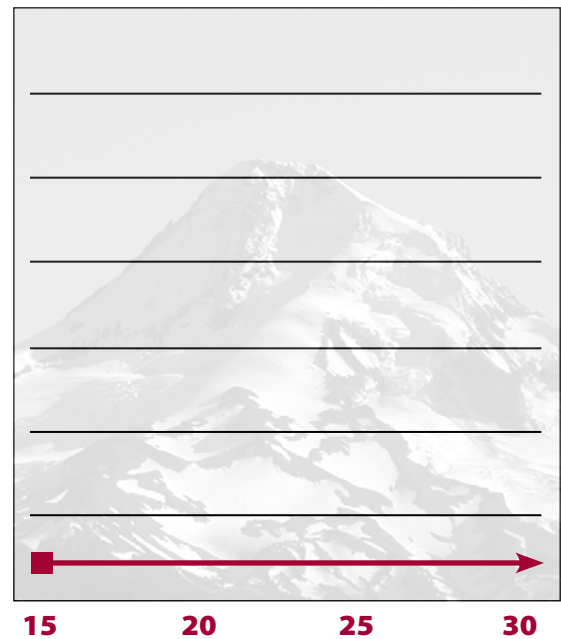

2. Consider your present location. What is the significance of where you are right now?

How far along this hike will your life take you? Will everyone make it to that last mountain or beyond? Will you make it to the end? Even if we make it to the "end" of the hike – life is short. It is important for us to choose wisely what we will do with our lives, and how we will spend our days. Every day is a gift from God.

3. Look over the six time periods represented by the mountains above and think about the major life decisions that will take place during each of them. Which mountain would you say represents the most important period of time for you to be thinking about now and why?

The Critical Moment

1. As you stand at the base of the second mountain or time period, consider the significance of the decisions that you will make between the ages of 15 and 30. Make a list of the major decisions and events that will take place during this period and write them on the mountain at right.
2. As you stand at the base of this second mountain, consider that by the end of this time period, you will probably have made many or all of the most important decisions in your life. In light of this, how important are the decisions you will make now and over the next few years?
 - My choices now will have no effect on my future.
 - My choices now will have some effect on my future.
 - My choices now will have a significant effect on my future.

3. Ages 15 to 20 represent the “critical moment” of your life. What specifically is the relationship between decisions made between ages 15 and 20 and the opportunities you will have between ages 20 and 30?

4. Looking at the mountains in the diagram on the preceding page, what would you say is the most significant difference between the first and second time periods in your life? Why is this important to consider?

The valley between the first and second mountain is steep and the river running through it is difficult to cross. Some get caught in the current. Others slip on the rocks. Successfully crossing the valley of these transition years is critical in protecting your future and living out God’s plan for your life. Fortunately, the Lord is able to guide you safely across if you will allow Him to take your hand and lead you through. Where are you in this transition? Have you felt the current of the river? Stepped on the sharp rocks? Are you making it across? Are you trusting the Lord to guide you? What is your plan for getting across the river?

The Future is Now!

This is the best possible time in your life to consider some of the most important decisions that you will ever make. Everyone’s life has times when critical choices and decisions must be made. That time is now. It’s not enough to just hang around at church or youth group, or even go on a missions trip. Those are good things, but following Jesus is more than that – it’s placing your trust in Him, no matter what others might think or say, and living your life according to His purpose. It’s resisting the pressure to live for self, and choosing instead to live for the glory of God.

Pressed on Every Side

Joseph's brothers were angry at him for his dream. They were so angry that they tried to stop him – to derail his plans and destroy his dream by sending him to Egypt and selling him as a slave. There will always be people who try to stop you. It may not be your family. It may be some of your friends – who aren't really your friends.

1. Although the importance of making good choices and decisions for the future may be clear, there is constant pressure from every side to compromise and make poor choices. Using one-word descriptions, identify some of the negative pressures teens face that could significantly compromise their future.

Negative Pressures:

2. Which of these negative pressures do you think have the greatest potential to keep a person from experiencing God's plan in the future? Explain:

One of the pressure spots that causes many people to miss out on God's great plan for the future is the pressure to be sexually active before marriage. Fortunately, increasing numbers of teens are realizing that choosing to resist this pressure provides significant benefits and greatly increases their chances of experiencing all God has for them. Even those who have been sexually active in the past are realizing that it's never too late to start over again, and are now choosing abstinence for their future.¹

3. What is abstinence? If someone at your school were to ask you what abstinence means, how would you explain it?

Considering the Benefits of Abstinence

In reference to sexual activity:

Abstinence is choosing to save all sexual activity for marriage.

“Sexual activity” includes any type of genital contact or sexual stimulation. Abstinence is the only sure way to protect your body, mind, and heart from the various consequences of premarital sexual activity. Abstinence is the safest, healthiest, lifestyle and one of the best ways to prepare for a healthy future marriage.

1. Why is it important to have a clear understanding of what “abstinence” means?

2. Consider the three key components of the abstinence definition above:

• Choosing: Abstinence is described as a choice. Whose choice is it, and why is this an important part of the definition?

• Sexual Activity: Why does abstinence refer to “all sexual activity?”

• Marriage: Why is abstinence defined as until “marriage?”

3. Do you believe it is possible for someone who has already been sexually active to still choose abstinence? Yes No Not sure

Abstinence is an option for everyone whether or not you have been sexually active in the past. If you’ve already chosen abstinence for yourself, Excel will encourage you to remain committed to that decision by giving you practical and helpful guidance in this area. It can also help you be an encouragement to others who might be wondering what they should do.

This is the “critical moment.” The decisions you make now will likely shape your life for years to come. The high school years are a time when the pressure is the greatest, and sexual activity has the potential to take your life in a very different direction than you ever imagined. Resisting pressures toward sexual activity is one of the best things you can do to keep your life on track and to accomplish God’s purposes in this world.

Living for Christ in Purity

Alyssa

Lauren

Rebecca

BarlowGirl is a band made up of three sisters: Rebecca, Alyssa and Lauren Barlow. They've been traveling around the country touring with artists such as Todd Agnew, Kutless, Building 429, and others. Rebecca, Alyssa, and Lauren love to worship the Lord, and to lead others in worshipping Him as well. Their passion is in helping teens avoid the pressures of the world, and to save themselves for marriage. All three girls are dedicated to purity.

When asked about their future goals, Alyssa explains: I think as much as we can, our prayer is that God will allow us more and more to allow Isaiah 61 to be fulfilled in our concerts, through our CDs, through interviews, and other ministry opportunities. Our hope is that we would open a door and give Him a platform to heal the broken hearted. There are so many broken hearted people in this world. There's so much brokenness. We see that more and more as we travel. I would love to see us having the ability to help people by bringing hope and truth. Ultimately that we would have our concerts be a time to usher God in as much as possible and to see all that He is going to do in this world.

Our life's goal isn't what BarlowGirl can do in this world -- but what God can do through us. Our desire is that we would allow our God to have His way in our lives and accomplish His will at the venues where we perform. That's our prayer every day and that's our greatest goal – to spread His love and His healing grace to people wherever we go.²

1. As you read the BarlowGirl story, what is the relationship between their commitment to abstinence and their life's goal of caring for others and serving the Lord?

2. Do you suppose that your decision regarding abstinence will have anything to do with your ability to live life on purpose and to positively influence others for the Lord? Yes No Explain:

3. Living life on purpose is about having a sense of the great things that God wants to do through you. Do you have a passage of Scripture that captures your sense of God's purpose for your life? If so, list it below. If not, perhaps during this study you can ask God to show you a passage that would help you to focus on living for Him.

Affirmation #1:

With God's help: I will live my life for the glory of God.

I do all things for the sake of the gospel, so that I may become a fellow partaker of it. ²⁴ Do you not know that those who run in a race all run, but only one receives the prize? Run in such a way that you may win. ²⁵ Everyone who competes in the games exercises self-control in all things. They then do it to receive a perishable wreath, but we an imperishable. ²⁶ Therefore I run in such a way, as not without aim; I box in such a way, as not beating the air; ²⁷ but I discipline my body and make it my slave, so that, after I have preached to others, I myself will not be disqualified.
— 1 Corinthians 9.23-27 —

Vertical View: Future Goals

Paul was committed to the spread of the gospel. The goal of his life was to share the love of Jesus with as many people as possible, and he was remarkably successful in doing so. We who are followers of Jesus today, are so, in large measure, because of Paul's dedication to carrying the gospel to the ends of the earth.

1. If you were to ask Paul what his purpose was in life, what would he say, according to verse 23?

2. If someone were to ask you about your purpose in life, what would you say?

3. Paul says: "run in such a way that you may win." What does he mean? What is he saying to you specifically about the way you should live your life?

4. Why does he say that an athlete needs to "exercise self-control in all things (verse 25)"?

5. Consider how hard an Olympic athlete must train. What is the difference between the prize of an athlete and the prize of a believer?

6. Why does Paul say that he disciplines his body, and what does this mean?

7. What is Paul's concern in verse 27, and what does this mean? Do you share his concern? Why or why not?

Talking It Over

*This section is designed for parents to review and discuss the chapter with their student.
Parents may want to answer these questions on a separate sheet and compare answers with the student.*

1. Joseph had a dream of what God could do through his life. How would you summarize the hopes and dreams that God has laid on your heart?

2. On a scale of 1-10, how much do you think decisions made in the teen years affect a person's future?

(1 = None 10 = A lot)

3. Of all the events that will take place in your life between ages 15 and 30, which do you value most (p. 9)?

4. Why are ages 15 to 20 considered the "critical moment" of your life (p. 9), and what are some of the important decisions you will have to make during this time?

5. How can choosing abstinence help you to live out God's plan for your life?

6. Why do you think that increasing numbers of teens are choosing abstinence?
