Safety & Security Procedures

Your safety and the security of your personal property are of the utmost concern to those of us who welcome you as our guest. We urge you to take advantage of the following suggestions.

Double Locks & Chains: For additional security while in your room, utilize the deadbolt lock provided on your door upon entering. This will prevent the door from being opened by a regular room key. As an additional precaution, please secure the safety chain or bar lock.

Admittance: Do not admit persons to your room without first making identification. A peephole is provided in your door for your convenience. If there is any doubt about a person's true identity, please contact the Front Desk.

Keys: Safeguard your key. Be sure to leave it with the Front Desk upon departure. Do not leave it in your room or in the door. Do not give your key to others.

Automobiles: Ensure that your car is locked, and do not leave any items of value visible in your car.

We hope that these procedures will contribute to your comfort and well-being during your stay.

Fire Safety

Hotels are doing even more to make sure that guests are safe from fire.

Ask at the Front Desk if they have smoke detectors or automatic sprinklers. Take time to read and familiarize yourself with fire safety and escape information.

Find two exits nearest your room. Count the number of doors from your room to the exits. Make sure that they are unlocked and unblocked.

Learn the layout of your room and how to unlock the door in the dark. Put your room key and a flashlight close to where you sleep. In the event of fire, take your room key, a flashlight and nothing else with you.

Locate the fire alarm on your floor. If you find a fire in your room or somewhere else, sound the alarm.

When you hear the fire alarm, act, don't investigate. Put these tips to work right away.

If the fire is in your room, get out and close the door. Once out, report the fire to the hotel operator.

If the fire is not in your room, leave if you can. First, feel the door. If it's cool, open it slowly and go to the nearest exit.

If your room door is hot, don't open it. Your room may be the safest place to be. Call the hotel operator, and report the fire and your location. Seal all cracks with wet towels. Shut off fans and air conditioners. Signal at your window or balcony for help, and wait to be rescued.

Crawl low in smoke. Fresh air will be at the floor. If you encounter smoke or fire at lower levels, turn around and use another exit. Take your key so that you can go back to your room if you can't use your exits.

Never use elevators during a fire. They could stop at the fire floor. Use interior stairs.

REMINDER: Don't smoke in bed. The most common cause of deadly hotel fires is smoking.

Cades Cove

Cades Cove is one of the most popular areas in the national park, just twenty-seven miles from Gatlinburg. A wide array of historic buildings, dating back to the late 19th and early 20th centuries, are scattered throughout the cove. These include a grist mill, barns, three churches and a collection of log and frame homes. An eleven mile one-way loop road take visitors around the cove. The road is open from sunrise to sunset; on some mornings up to 10:00am only bicycle and foot traffic are allowed. Deer are almost always seen in the fields and sightings of other wildlife are possible.

Enjoying the Park

Take Newfound Gap Road, a scenic, high mountain road, which winds up through Newfound Gap. Along the road are numerous scenic pullouts with superb views. You can park at the crest of Newfound Gap, where the Appalachian Trail crosses the road. You can also drive the spur road out to the Clingmas Dome, the highest point in the park and its observation tower with panoramic views. Clingmans Dome can be reached via a strenuous 1/2-mile hike from the parking lot. To truly experience the beauty of the mountains, park officials recommend a closer look. There are some 800 miles of trails leading to waterfalls, coves, balds and rushing streams.

The Great Smoky Mountains National Park

The Great Smoky Mountains National Park, the majestic climax of the Appalachian Highlands, is a 520,000-acre mountain wilderness. It straddles the Tennessee and North Carolina border with about a quarter million acres in each state. It attracts some 10 million visitors each year making it America's most popular national park. Many of those visitors use Sevier County as their gateway to the park. The same unique combination of scenery, history and recreation that draws visitors from across the country makes the park a favorite destination for local residents.

Other Park Visitors Centers

The National Park also has an information station at the Gatlinburg Welcome Center on US 441 and there is a visitors center at Cades Cove in the park. Connecting Sugarlands Visitors Center and Oconaluftee Visitors Center (open year-round) at the entrance on the North Carolina side of the park, is the Newfound Gap Road, a scenic drive across the Smokies that is closed to commercial vehicles.

Park Regulations and Safety

The Great Smoky Mountain National Park is managed as a natural and wild environment. Motorists must drive defensively. Hikers must meet nature on its own terms. If you hike alone, let someone know your plans and schedule, and have proper clothing and gear. In winter, gear and clothing should be suitable for survival in deep snow and extreme cold. To prevent accidents, stay on trails, stay off cliff faces, be careful around water, and watch and control children. Pets are permitted in the park if on a leash or under constant physical control, but are prohibited on trails or cross-country hikes.

Sugarlands Visitors Center

From the Tennessee side, make your first stop the Sugarlands Visitors Center, located just two miles inside the park from Gatlinburg at the intersection of Newfound Gap and Little River Roads. The building is full of information, publications and exhibits. The center's natural history museum displays animal and plant life found in the park. A slide show gives you an overview of the park's history and ecology. There are free maps, pamphlets and brochures about the park, and the rangers at the desk are well informed and will be glad to answer all your questions and suggest things for you to do and see in the park. The Sugarlands Visitors Center is open all year.

A Wildlands Sanctuary

The Great Smoky Mountains are a wildlands sanctuary preserving the world's finest examples of temperate deciduous forest. The name smoky comes from smoke-like haze enveloping the mountains. The park boasts unspoiled forests similar to those early pioneers found. Restored log cabins and barns stand as reminders of those who carved a living from this wilderness. Fertile soils and abundant rain have encouraged the development of a world-renowned variety of flora, including more than 1,500 kinds of flowering plants. Broadleaf trees predominate in the coves, while along the crest - at more than 6,000 feet elevation - are conifer forests like those found in central Canada. Wild flowers and migrating birds abound in late April and early May. During June and July rhododendrons bloom in profusion. Autumn's pageantry of color usually peaks in mid-October. In winter, an unpredictable season, a peace pervades the park. Fog rolling over the mountains may blanket the conifers in frost.

A Word About Bears

Bears are wild and potentially dangerous. If one approaches your car, stay inside with the windows closed. Feeding bears and other wildlife encourages the animals to behave unnaturally and violates the park regulations.
