Katherine M. Bond is a partner at Leech Tishman and a member of the Intellectual Property Practice Group. Katherine is based in Leech Tishman's San Diego satellite office and focuses her practice in all areas of intellectual property, corporate law and regulatory compliance.

Katherine regularly represents entrepreneurs and established companies across a wide range of industries, assisting them with corporate formation and compliance, protection and patent rights, business transactions, and licensing and regulatory law. Katherine has prepared and prosecuted foreign and domestic patent applications in a variety of areas, including pharmaceutical, biotech, medical device, and consumer products. Katherine represents and counsels clients in domestic and international trademark prosecution, as well as opposition proceedings before the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board, and infringement cases in federal court. Additionally, Katherine has extensive experience handling Internet issues, including disputes involving domain names, website content and key word advertising, and resolving these disputes expeditiously through the UDRP process.

Prior to joining Leech Tishman, Katherine was an attorney with Sheldon Mak & Anderson, a California-based full-service intellectual property law firm. Katherine has experience serving as in-house counsel to a nutraceutical company. Her business acumen also consists of more than six years as a professional in the pharmaceutical industry.
